☐ Please check box if providing own form, or if additional space is needed to list home information.

For a manufactured home to meet SC's standards for energy efficiency, the home must have the following:

1. Storm or double pane glass windows;
2. Insulated or storm doors;
3. A minimum thermal resistance rating of R-11 for walls, R-19 for floors, and R-30 for ceilings OR allowances in the energy efficiency levels for walls, floors, and ceilings, so long as the heat loss does not exceed that calculated using the R levels stated above. These heat loss calculations are based on the current edition of the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air-Conditioning Engineers Guide at the time of the home's manufacture.

The following statement (along with signature and printed name) must be included if providing own form:

I hereby attest that each of the above referenced energy efficiency labels was affixed inside the breaker box of the appropriate unit as identified by the serial number on the energy efficient label.
